About Us

Welcot Towels is a Manufacturer and exporter of premium terry towels, Turkish towels, and toweling accessories for global markets.

Founded by second-generation entrepreneurs, Welcot is backed by over 20+ years of family expertise in towel manufacturing.

Built on strong domestic production experience, Welcot was created to unite craftsmanship, quality, and innovation under one export-focused brand. We work closely with our manufacturing partners to ensure consistent quality, reliable supply, and customized product solutions.

With Welcot, you gain more than a supplier you gain a manufacturing partner committed to your growth.

Manufacturing Facility Global Standards

We operate through a network of modern, well-equipped manufacturing facilities in India, strategically aligned to meet the requirements of international buyers. These facilities combine advanced machinery, skilled craftsmanship, and streamlined production processes to ensure consistent quality, scalable capacity, and timely delivery.

Working closely with our manufacturing partners we oversee every stage of production from material selection to finishing and packaging to ensure all products meet international quality compliance and sustainability standards. Our processes emphasize responsible sourcing eco-conscious practices and strict quality control at each step.

Whether supplying to the U.S., Europe, or other global markets, our manufacturing ecosystem is fully capable of handling large-scale orders while maintaining durability, premium finish, and export-ready standards. This approach allows Welcot to deliver reliable, high-quality products without compromising flexibility or consistency.
